

COMPLETES TRAINING . . .
 Lt. Helen M. De Frieze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert De Frieze, 2310 Pacific Coast Highway, Lomita, has completed initial WAC training at the first training center, Fort Des Moines, Ia., and is now on duty with the Army at New Orleans.

Chamber Plans Exhibits of Local Products

In addition to maintaining supplies of up-to-date reports and major plans for post-war guidance, the publicity committee of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce is arranging to install at the chamber offices in the near future an exhibit of products manufactured by local industries which have signified their hearty cooperation to carry out the program.

These exhibits will be arranged in cabinets and placed in the lobby and windows of the chamber headquarters at Post and Sartori avenues, to demonstrate to interested citizens and transients what Torrance is doing—and what it is planning to do.

Shriners to Hold Annual Ball at Coconut Grove

Nobles of local Shrine clubs and Potentate's Ambassadors for this sector of Al Malakiah's jurisdiction were notified today that Al Malakiah Temple of the Shrine this year is to change its entire format for the annual Potentate's ball, which launches the social 1944 season for wearers of the vermilion fez and their wives and families.

For years it has been held in Shrine Auditorium for nobles and guests, with dancing and an entertainment program, plus a review of uniformed organizations of the Shrine as principal features.

The 1944 event honoring Potentate Francis A. Stearns will ally with the war effort and take on added importance taking over the entire Coconut Grove at the Los Angeles Ambassador on Monday evening, April 3, for a dinner dance.

More than 200 officers returned to the Pacific Coast from fighting fronts will be guests of honor.

The home of Mrs. Howard H. Cowan (Mary Peckham) was a delightful setting for a party Friday evening honoring Mrs. James Miller, the former Jane Johnston. Following an evening of bridge, with Mes. Bettye Howard and Joan Mitchell as prize winners, refreshments were served.

Ivy and lighted pastel tapers created a festive background for the tables, where places were arranged for the honoree and Mes. Bette Smith, Adeline Miller, Mickey Ruggaff, Mildred Dudley, Margaret Carson, Lucille Rogers, Ella Harris, Ina Mae Maupin, Jeanne Clayton, Marion Trezise and Miss Patty Post, all of this city, and Martha Bishop of Manhattan Beach. Many lovely gifts were presented for the heir-to-be.

Turn In Old Used Collapsible Tubes

Although it is no longer a WPB requirement that a used collapsible tube be turned in when purchasing shaving cream, tooth paste or other products in tubes, Mrs. America is asked to continue saving certain types of these containers voluntarily. The WPB is still interested in salvaging tubes made a year ago or more because they generally provide a higher percentage of tin than those most recently produced. Tubes containing ointments and other medicinals—no matter when made—are even more valuable for salvage purposes since some still are made of all tin and every bit is still needed. So if you have such containers, turn them in to your dealer as usual.

After School Class In Spanish Begun At Torrance High

Inauguration of an after-school Spanish class for the purpose of self-improvement among teachers as a part of a nationwide program has been effected at Torrance High school for elementary and high school teachers in the Torrance area.

Mrs. Lorraine Goodwin, Spanish and English teacher at Torrance High, will take charge of the growing class, numbering approximately 30 at present, which will meet every Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Objectives of the class will be self-improvement among teachers in beginning Spanish and later conversational comprehension and application. A six-year national program in the schools for pupils ranging from elementary to senior high grades to be instructed in conversational Spanish in keeping with the "good neighbor" policy, was the impetus behind the organization of the after-school class. One of the aims of the program will be the development of a bilingual society in California and in the Los Angeles area in particular.

PARKED CAR DAMAGED

R. E. Vaus, 2321 Torrance blvd., reported to the police station in Torrance this week that the body of his '31 Ford car bearing license number 01R924 was badly damaged while parked near the Grand Theatre. The grill was smashed and one fender damaged, he reported.

20-Year Service Pin Awarded G. W. Dowdy

G. W. Dowdy of Torrance has been awarded a gold pin by Standard of California for his 20 years of continuous service with the Standard Oil Company.

Dowdy was among numerous employees receiving pin awards during February of 1944. More than half the oil company's entire personnel wears service pins.

Postage, Other Fees Advanced On March 27

Increased postage rates, fees for money orders, registered, insured and C.O.D. mail becomes effective under the new revenue act passed by Congress on Feb. 25. Postmaster Earl Conner of Torrance warned today.

For local first-class mail delivery, except that on which the rate under existing law is 1 cent for each ounce or fraction thereof and except post cards, the new rate will be 3 cents per ounce or fraction thereof. The 3-cent rate on regular first-class mail to be delivered to post-offices outside that of the sender remains at 3 cents.

Air mail addressed from post offices in the United States and Alaska will require 8 cents in postage instead of 6 cents as at present.

Fourth class mail (parcel post) postage is increased 3% over existing rates.

The minimum fee to be charged for money orders will be 10 cents, ranging up to 37 cents, issued for payment of from $0.1 up to $100 inclusive. The minimum fee for registered letters will be 20 cents where the indemnity does not exceed $5. The rates then scale on up to $1.20 where the registered indemnity is above $700 and not exceeding $800.

Fees for insurance of domestic mail matter of the third and fourth classes will be double the existing rates, it was announced by the postmaster.

Journalism Students Of T.H.S. to Attend Conclave at U.S.C.

Five journalism students of Torrance High school, accompanied by Irene Mills, adviser of the school publication, have accepted an invitation to attend the 22nd annual newspaper day events to be staged on the campus of the University of California on March 18, it was announced today.

The students selected to attend the function are: Paul Peterson, editor of the T.H.S. publication; James Johnston, Doreen Livermore, Pat Rojko and Mabine Mitchell.

The all-day program in Bovard Auditorium will include addresses by leading correspondents and reporters of United Press and metropolitan newspapers, with Prof. Marc N. Goodnow presiding at the morning assembly.

Following lunch, the awards assembly will feature winning student newspapers, with Stanley W. Larson, president of the California Newspapers Association, presenting the Crombie Allen trophy. Prof. Roy L. French, director of the S. C. school of journalism, will preside. Student editors and their staffs will also hold special conferences beginning at 2 p.m.

Southern California editors and publishers are invited to the conclave.

City Employees in Armed Forces to Retain Job Status

At a meeting of the Torrance Civil Service Commission with members of the city council recently an understanding was reached whereby men who left their jobs to enter the armed forces will retain their former status and seniority upon returning to civilian life.

Members of the commission wanted the matter clarified so that there will be no question about reemployment of the men when they have ended their military service.

Mrs. Loton B. Buckley is enjoying a week's visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hunt of Escondido.

Torrance Man Flies To Navy Hospital With Infected Hand

Joe Van Kralingen, seaman 1/c, U. S. Coast Guard, who was detailed to patrol duty in the South Pacific islands some weeks ago, is reported to have left his ship and was flown to a medical station for treatment for an infected hand, but expected to be back on duty soon, according to information received by Jack Hallanger.

Van Kralingen and John H. Lyimo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hallanger, petty officer aboard a U. S. Navy tanker, met on one of the islands not long ago and enjoyed a pleasant visit together. This was the first time they had met since entering the armed services.

Soldier Fleeced in Carnival Marble Game

According to the Torrance police log of Sunday a soldier reported he had been the victim of a marble game while attending the carnival show on Border ave. and was fleeced of $60 in cash.

Capt. F. J. Schumacher accompanied the complainant to the show grounds, succeeded in obtaining a refund of $45 to the man wearing the U. S. Army uniform and ordered the game closed forthwith.
